Police Check and/or Working with Children Check

Depending on the position you apply for, volunteers may be required to agree to a Police Check and/or Working with Children Check.

A criminal record does not preclude you from working as a volunteer at Advance Diversity Services. However if you are a “Prohibited Person” or someone who has been convicted or found guilty of a serious sex offence and/or of a listed serious offence against children (whether in NSW or elsewhere) you will be prohibited from volunteering at Advance Diversity Services.

You will also be required to present various forms of identification to complete a 100 point identification check process to prove your identity.

Note: Some of the information that Advance Diversity Services is collecting from you is personal information and we adhere to the laws outlined in the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998 (“PIIP Act”). The supply of the information by you is voluntary. The information will be retained by Advance Diversity Services and stored securely and will not be made publicly available.

Program Information

Administration - assist with the operation and management of Advance Diversity Services administrative and office management tasks that help maintain our organisational resources and documents and assist with the day to day running of our office and programs.

Caring Calls - support customers of Advance Diversity Services who live at home alone, are house bound and do not have a lot of contact with the wider community. This position is not a counselling service, but is to provide further support to our aged care programs by matching volunteers with customers for regular phone calls to check on their welfare and improve their connection with the local community and additional support if required.

Form Filling – assist clients to complete government forms (eg Centrelink and NSW Housing) and other correspondence such as letters. This position does not provide advice about government or other community support programs. It helps clients fill in forms with their relevant information.

Language Support - This program is a partnership between Advance Diversity Services and Beverly Hills Intensive English Centre (IEC). The position provides language support for newly arrived migrant and refugee students aged 12 – 18, attending Beverly Hill IEC. Beverly Hills IEC offers a wide range of subjects in small classes with an emphasis on achieving an English level which will enable the student to function effectively in mainstream high school or TAFE courses. Beverly Hills IEC is a NSW Department of Education and Training High School.

Lifelong Learning - The purpose of the Lifelong Learning Program is to provide affordable and accessible education activities that support and benefit our clients and the residents of the St George and Sutherland area. Programs that promote the arts, literacy, information exchange, skills development and cross cultural dialogue and connections will be given priority.
